Supervisory Intelligence Analyst
FBI Headquarters (HQ)
Brian James Auten
DOB: 02/24/1969
brian.auten@ic.fbi.gov
Wife: Linda Auten
Burke, VA 22015

According to his former and current colleagues, who have made public disclosures as whistleblowers to U.S. senators, Auten authored a so-called "assessment" in August 2020 which cast doubt on the provinance of material related to—and data contained on the Biden Laptop. Auten's "ridiculous" assessment was then utilized by his colleague as a justification to halt investigative activity, according to whistleblowers.

Auten also played a central role in the Russian collusion delusion and bogus "Steele dossier." In other words, a single analyst has stood in the middle of two of the most consequential FBI scandals of the 21st century.

Deputy Assistant Director (Retired)
Counterintelligence Division
FBI HQ
Bradley "Brad" Scott Benavides
DOB: 03/03/1970
linkedin.com/in/bradley-b-582838226
Wife: Cathy Lynn Begley Benavides (née Heagy)
359 Commonwealth Way
Aiken, SC 29803

Benavides provided false information to U.S. senators about the Bidens and their foreign business dealings. Specifically, Benavides (who "retired"—with his pension, of course—shortly after the exposure of his role in the fiasco and other matters received an executive position with Amazon) briefed a U.S. Senate committee on 08/08/2020 about how legitimate inquiries into the Bidens' foreign business dealings were enabling a "Russian disinformation campaign." Naturally, the briefing's details were leaked to the Washington Post, which is owned by Jeff Bezos, the founder of Benavides's next employer.

Auten also played a central role in the Russian collusion delusion and bogus "Steele dossier." In other words, a single analyst has stood in the middle of two of the most consequential FBI scandals of the 21st century.

Ex-wife: Lisa Ann Bowdich (née Hassell)
12458 Carmel Cpe
San Diego, CA 92130

The former U.S. Attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania, Scott Brady, testified that Bowdich was actually willing and able to unplug the FBI's bureaucratic jams, which were holding up basic information sharing between the Russian government in the Biden Laptop. Brown asked: "If there is a laptop purported to be attributed to Hunter Biden, is it possible that a foreign adversary (like the Russians) could be using that as a way to insert into the U.S. political system false information, bad information, corrupted information, all kinds of things that could be on the laptop—is it possible that the Russians are capable of doing this?" Hilariously (and tragically), Benavides responded to Brown's question in the affirmative.

According to testimony he gave to congressional investigators on 09/28/2023, Benavides stated that Brown posed a question to the Orwellian-themed Foreign Influence Task Force (FITF) about potential involvement by the Russian government in the Biden Laptop. Brown asked: "If there is a laptop purported to be attributed to Hunter Biden, is it possible that a foreign adversary (like the Russians) could be using that as a way to insert into the U.S. political system false information, bad information, corrupted information, all kinds of things that could be on the laptop—is it possible that the Russians are capable of doing this?" Mac Isaac on 12/20/2020: "Agent Mike [Dzielak] instructed me that, moving forward, we should only communicate through text message, no email. He also said that if somebody came into the shop looking for the laptop, I was to contact them [the FBI] immediately and stall them for 24 hours and [FBI] agents would return the equipment."

Floris, along with her colleague Benavides, provided false information to U.S. senators about the Bidens and their foreign business dealings. Specifically, Floris (who met multiple times with Joe Biden's then-chief counsel in the West Wing, Dana Remus, who is embroiled in Joe's classified documents fiasco) briefed a U.S. Senate committee on 08/08/2020 about how legitimate inquiries into the Bidens' foreign business dealings were enabling a "Russian disinformation campaign."

Thibault was the tip of the spear in the Washington, DC Field Office handling the Biden Laptop operation; according to multiple former colleagues and subordinates, Thibault—who shared numerous vile and derogatory messages on social media about his then-boos, President Trump—ordered investigative activity to cease surrounding the Biden Laptop in October 2020. Thibault left the FBI (with his pension) just weeks after Senator Chuck Grassley revealed the aforementioned derogatory messages.

Thibault eventually got a slap on the wrist from the Office of Special Counsel (OSC), despite the fact that the OSC determined that Thibault blatantly violated the federal statute and regulation in question.

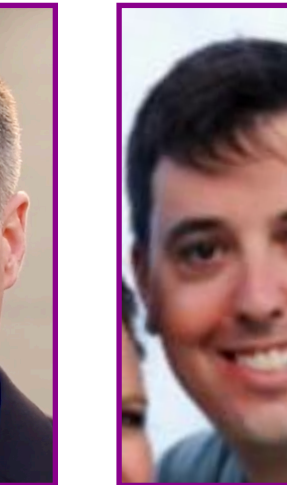

Assistant Director (Departed)

Tyson responded (on behalf of the FBI) to a letter from Senator Ron Johnson in October 2020 and wrote that the Bureau had "nothing to add" and could not "provide any additional information" about the Biden Laptop, which—as we now know—had been in the FBI's possession since December 2019. At the same time Tyson penned her letter, she was (according to DOJ's OIG) engaging in an "inappropriate" "romantic" relationship with a subordinate (FBI employee) which "disrupt[ed] the workplace[.]" A close ally of FBI Director Christopher Wray, Tyson stayed at the Bureau for nearly an entire year after the OIG report was released. Tyson is now calling herself a "Crisis Communications Consultant" and she maintains contracts with Amazon and other large corporations.

Vordran had the gall to repeatedly tell a U.S. congressman—who serves on a committee with explicit oversight responsibilities over the FBI—which questions he was not going to answer at a public hearing: "I'm not here to talk about the [Biden] Laptop."

Shapley, 19: "SSA Gordon and I waited in the car outside of Hunter Biden's California residence waiting for a phone call. It was no surprise that the phone call SSA Gordon received was from his ASAC Alfred Watson, who informed us that Hunter Biden would contact us through his then-attorneys [Eraston Burton and Ben Klubas]."

Watson also participated in a call on 10/05/2020, with his then-colleague Miller, along with other agents. Since his term began in August 2017, Wray has overseen the FBI for the entirety of the Biden "investigation." As such, the "back stops with him." Wray's subordinates, in many ways both large and small, have made a mockery of the phrase "equal application of the law."
